

1841 Annex 4. Tactical Class Competition

1842 For Tactical Class competition the rifle and rest must conform to the following rules:

1843

- 1844 • A tactical rifle is essentially a custom-built rifle that is single shot or has an external or
- 1845 internal magazine.
- 1846 • In competition, the rifle must be fired single shot.
- 1847 • Any bolt action
- 1848 • Any barrel
- 1849 • Any scope
- 1850 • Flat stock fore-ends less than 2 1/8" wide are allowed when using a front rest. When
- 1851 using a front rest with a fore end wider than 2 1/8", there may be no vertical flat sides on
- 1852 the stock, and the bottom of the stock must be radiused, except that one flat section on
- 1853 the bottom center of the stock not greater than 1 1/2" wide is allowed. The purpose of this
- 1854 rule is that Light Gun stocks may not be used in Tactical competition.
- 1855 • Any safe trigger may be installed on the rifle.
- 1856 • Bedding of the action and the breech end of the barrel
- 1857 • No one-piece rest
- 1858 • Monopods and Bipods are legal provided the stock complies with the rules above.
- 1859 • Muzzle Brakes, suppressors, and other barrel modifications are allowed except that clam
- 1860 shell type muzzle devices are not permitted.
- 1861 • No mechanical rear rests. Rear rest must be a sandbag type rest.
- 1862 • Maximum weight is 27 pounds, weighed in the as-fired configuration, including any
- 1863 bipod or monopod

1864

1866 Except as noted above or specifically noted in the rules for 1000-yard competition for tactical
1867 class, the rules for tactical class for 1000-yard competition are the same as defined for Light
1868 Gun.

1870 Except as noted above or specifically noted in the rules for 600-yard competition for tactical
1871 class the rules for tactical class for 600-yard competition are the same as defined for Light Gun.
